Entrepreneur (Financial Consultant)

About Me

Tariq Welhous, born in Curacao, is an entrepreneur (financial consultant) with over 20 years of regional experience in the banking industry, specifically in corporate credit and business development. I currently hold Supervisory Board positions at multiple local regulated financial institutions and trading companies.

During my career I have learned the importance of building and maintaining relationships with stakeholders at all levels to achieve joint goals. I consider myself to be a driven, passionate and goal-oriented person.

I want to make a difference in Aruba's business community by joining the Board of the Aruba Business Chamber and contribute with new ideas, know-how and the desire to serve. For over 95 years, Aruba's Chamber of Commerce has helped entrepreneurs achieve their dreams and goals. I feel the need to do the same and help.

The way people do business is rapidly changing. The influence of technology, artificial intelligence, tax reforms, logistics etc. are all influencing the experience for both the entrepreneurs and the consumers. Seeking solutions to address the above-mentioned and other obstacles entrepreneurs in Aruba face every day is high on my agenda. Less dialogue and more action is the only way Aruba's commerce can flourish like we want it to.
