

Those Who Carried Us To Freedom

In fields where courage shone so bright,
Canadian soldiers fought with might.
They came to free Woensdrecht's land,
These brave heroes who took a stand.

They crossed the sea with hope in sight,
To bring back peace, to end the fight.
In their Bren Carriers they pushed through pain and strife,
Bringing peace to our home, a new chance for life.

With pride we raise the flag this day, red and white,
A symbol of honor, a beacon of light.
For every life laid on the line,
In gratitude, our hearts align.

So let us stand and cheer them loud,
For those who fought and made us proud.
In every breeze, the flag will wave,
A tribute to the brave, the free, the saved.

As we remember, let us unite
Let this Bren carrier stand, in honor of those who chose to fight.
For in their courage, we find our way,
Forever grateful, we will honor their day.

Niels Voeten,